Americans say government, the economy and immigration are the top three problems facing the country today, according to a new poll released Wednesday.

The Gallup poll showed that 18 percent of people polled say the government and politicians are the biggest problem while 14 percent say the economy is the top challenge.

About 15 percent say immigration is the most important issue, jumping up from just 5 percent in June likely due to a flood of unaccompanied minors crossing the border this summer.

About 7 percent of people ranked foreign policy the most important problem right now, making it the sixth biggest concern in August.

That's up from just 3 percent in July as the U.S. has had to deal with a crisis in Israel and also gets more involved with missile strikes and humanitarian aid drops in Iraq.

More people also reported a fear of war, with 3 percent saying that's the top problem, up from just 1 percent a month ago.

Results come from telephone interviews with more than 1,000 adults across the country between Aug. 7-10. The margin of error is 4 percent.

Obama is corrupt, reckless and out of control. He has politicized the government for his political agenda. We no longer have a government of the people, by the people, and for the people. We have a lawless, radical socialist who is hijacking the government to create a welfare state and destroy the middle class. Obama is clearly a threat to our welfare and our national security. I use to think he was just painfully stupid but now I believe he is malevolent toward the USA.

GW you are spot on regarding Obama's malevolence toward our country, but no one man could possibly reek the havoc that he has acting alone. First of all, he would have to work at it full time and we know that he doesn't like to work that hard. He has put into place, through those that are pulling the strings, a host of like-minded idiots with an ax to grind. Herr Holder is a perfect example. We use to view the FBI as the "Untouchables" but now that title goes to African-American politicians in the Obama administration. If you criticize their actions you must be a racist. Jeh Johnson is another. What is happening on our Southern border is a crime. As the crime grows larger, Obama appoints Jeh Johnson to finish the job, but don't you dare criticize Johnson.

It took less time for Obama to respond to the tragic shooting of a black teenager in MO than it did to condemn Russia for shooting down a passenger jet. We are being divided by race, religion and sexual preference by the miscreant in the White House. We should bear this in mind in November and remove the Democrat majority in the Senate.

Eric Holder is again back at it leading an investigation and fanning the racial flames into the shooting of the black teenager in MO. More racial division and more riots and protests are coming.

Whenever a black youngster is shot by the police, whether while committing a crime or not, the entire black community in the immediate area are up in arms. Some are out protesting, others are out shopping like it was the day after Thanksgiving except now the price is "FREE"

Yet nothing is said, nothing, about the dozens of black youth that are killed in Chicago every month by each other. What a bunch of hypocrites.

Eric Holder sends a demagogue like Sharpton to quell a riot, Rev. Al Sharpton the FBI informant and incendiary that caused the deaths of Jews in New York during a riot that he formulated and caused? Sharpton of the Twanny Brawley fame, the inciter, the perjurer is sent to quell a riot by the Obama Regime, how funny. 13% of the population commits 65% of all murders and 70% of felonious assaults, robberies and rapes, how do you suppress the lawless when they riot if they are racially privileged by the ObamaRegime?

Where is the outrage from Holder with the knockout game...that really isn't a game it's racial profiling and targeting of whites!

El Maestro > Stephanie · a day ago

The "knock-out game" is not the global phenomenon that the right-wing wants it to be. Conservatives want to keep mentioning these isolated incidents in order to fan the flames of racist hate so they can keep dividing the nation.

What a stupid comment. When was the last time white people looted and rioted because a white kid was shot by police? These people came to their desired conclusion before the investigation even started and most could care less about the kid shot. They looked at it as an opportunity to STEAL and nothing more. Fatherless homes create this mindset.

It's hilarious how the progressive lefty occasionally sticks his head out from his mousehole, makes an utterance and then goes back in. He does exactly as he's been taught. Does anyone really think it means anything other than this is a progressive leftist hiding in his mousehole? Proceed accordingly.

let's be honest, it is all blacks rioting because one black thug was shot in the line of duty after he attacked a police officer. These blacks whine and moan how justice is not given to them. These people that riot and loot want justice? Justice would be that the armed store owners shoot them like mad dogs in the street. Then they complain that police give more attention to white neighborhoods and they are not getting protection they deserve. Then the police do their job and instead of saying thanks for getting another thug off the streets and their neighborhood, they riot even before any investigation has been completed. They are scum in my view and the law abiding blacks in those neighborhoods have my sympathy. They get tarred with the worst of their people and don't deserve it. So much black on black crime and outrage happens when a thug gets his due?

6  |  · Reply · Share ›

 None None > oldlady · 21 hours ago

And they wonder why their neighborhoods become slums when no business wants to locate there? If I were the police in this area I would take my sweet time responding to any calls for help or assistance and maybe even get lost or stuck in traffic.
